Just like our conservatories, our porches are designed to suit your precise needs. You can choose from a wide range of traditional, period or more modern styles using UPVC, aluminium or timber window and door units.

Fully glazed or constructed with a brick or panelled base, your porch can echo the style of the existing property or make its own design statement.

With a wide choice of roof tiles and slates, or fully glazed roof panels to match your doors and windows, everything is under your control. Even the inside gets the VIP treatment with electrics, heating, skirting and internal window sills all included.

Whatever your preference we are sure we can find the right solution for your home.

This modular porch is typical of the type installed in many modern homes. Constructed from UPVC with glazed panels and door, the white weatherboarded side sections and tiled roof match the existing property.

Paxtons can also refurbish existing porches. This example was updated using the latest UPVC frame construction, large casement window opening and feature Georgian style front door (with coloured glass detailing) and chrome furniture. New white weatherboarding and external sills complete the look.

This traditionally constructed porch was designed and constructed by Paxtons. Creating a large entrance area to the existing property, all materials used in the construction of the walls and roof were from reclaimed sources. The frames and door were produced from UPVC with Georgian bar detailing.
